SAP® Certification Course for Students

EDUCATION IS ESSENTIAL

Today’s job market has a great demand for well-educated and motivated graduates. For the next-generation workforce, it becomes more and more important to offer outstanding skills to establish itself in today’s hypercompetitive business environment.

For this reason, the SAP® University Alliances program, in cooperation with the SAP Education organization, offers students the opportunity to gain helpful and important skills through a comprehensive course on the key functionalities of the SAP ERP application, the TERP10: SAP ERP – Integration of Business Processes certification course.

ABOUT TERP10

TERP10: SAP ERP – Integration of Business Processes is a 10-day training course held at participating member institutions of the SAP University Alliances program. The students learn how the fundamental integrated business processes of procurement, production, planning, project management, sales, customer service, asset management, financial accounting, human resources, and analytics interact within and are supported by SAP ERP. All theoretical parts are complemented with on-hands sessions performed directly in an SAP software training system.

BENEFITS

The course provides students with a broad basic knowledge of the core business processes, business interrelations, and integration of business processes supported by SAP ERP. After nine days of in-class training, students take the “SAP Certified Business Process Associate with SAP ERP 6.0” certification examination. Upon passing the examination, they become a certified associate. This SAP certificate is fully recognized in the industry and gives students a uniquely competitive set of qualifications for their future careers.

HOW TO PARTICIPATE

All member institutions of the SAP University Alliances program have the possibility to offer such a course to their students after having two of their lecturers pass the examination themselves. For further information, academic institutions can contact the SAP University Alliances team at uasupport@sap.com.

All enrolled full-time students can participate in this training course at all member institutions offering it. To get more information about what the course offers and conditions for training events and certification, contact the participating institutions.
